CARDbuyers

CARDbuyers would like to introduce you to a new way of acquiring your favorite games, books, hardware, and in general… anything you want to purchase. It's a great way to convert your cryptocurrency into fiat as well. You will be able to convert BCARD coins into real currency via Amazon, Steam, Apple Pay, Paysafe, and even Google Play Store. We are just beginning… Currently, we are offering a masternode coin setup with a strong ROI and at the same time including inflation control. This will cement the coins' value in the future.

The system is structured so that both large HODL'rs and  HODL'rs of smaller means will be able to reap rewards. The original/idealistic concept of cryptocurrency is and should always be that all have access. We have and will adhere to that. Join us :)

CARDbuyers is an innovative application.
Finally, you can safely use crypto to buy all of your favorite games and other things!

Simply get the CARDbuyers Coin and use it to load up on Amazon Gift Cards, Steam Cards, Apple Cards, Paysafecards and even Google Play Cards. Shop online, give as gifts or trade for whatever you like!

Freedom is in the cards

In today's crypto market, turbulent as it is, many people as well as businesses struggle with navigation. It really still is the wild west. The current established banking system has taken issue with what is happening in cryptocurrency. As soon as they realized it is here to stay they are attempting to own it. In certain countries laws and rules are slowly being implemented to help the banking system maintain control. Due to this, the fiat based markets and businesses are missing out on an incredible amount of revenue as well as community building. Back to the individual, you and everyone you know are missing out on potential opportunities. During our research phase we found that there have been multiple businesses that have run into roadblocks trying to enter the crypto space. We want to solve this, so we asked ourselves what can we do?

- How do I and why should I get in?
- How do I select coins to trade?
- How do I select coins to invest in?
- How do I as a business enable these payments for goods/services and not be subjected to incredibly volatile markets?
- How do I use my rewards/gains to purchase goods and services instantly?
- How do I learn and educate myself on this entire space?

These are just a few of the top level questions that we have asked ourselves. We are sure that you have as well.

We are developing a new and innovative way to purchase goods and services online. One of the common misconceptions is that a system is decentralized and anonymous. We will pull the veil back and show you what that really means. In general, your marketplace is centralized, but the ledger or record of transactions is not, and that is part and parcel to your anonymity. One can see what is being transferred, but will never know where it's going or where its from. Again, this is why we are building our community for educational purposes as well.

We have chosen to accept a various number of gift cards as a payment method paired with BCARD. What does that mean? Simply put, you trade BCARD for these gift cards. It's that simple. Not only can you perform this exchange but it will be for goods and services you actually want. Steam, Apple Pay, Google Play Store, as well as the others previously mentioned. And that is just the beginning.

Think about it, you make an investment, you reap rewards (like dividends), you then are able to use those rewards to purchase whatever you want. You can increase your holdings for greater rewards or get out at any time. The beauty of it is that it will hold its value and be resistant to volatility. Your BCARD will be working for you always.

Now, how does it work you ask?

Upon entering the crypto space our team quickly realized that we did not want to be yet another coin that pumps and dumps. We wanted to build something real, sustainable and vibrant. Something that people can believe in and trust.

We have all been through the hardest parts of this space - scammers, spoofers, and all the agents of impropriety. That is where we will not be and that is why we are putting as much as we are into this project. We also want to simplify everything that you and we want to do. Crypto should be just as easy as Amazon, and we aim to make it that way.

This is where you come in. We have a vision of creating a strong community that helps and educates each and every member. One that is focused on the core ideals of what crypto really is and should be. It sounds cheesy but strength in numbers really is a good thing. We all want to be successful in life and do well financially but that is not everything. It's a lot of things though :)
